

WHO WE ARE & WHAT WE DO

Chronic Joy® is making a difference
ONE precious life at a time.
Perhaps today that ONE life is yours!

CHRONIC ILLNESS

Chronic illness is hard, but you are not alone. Join fellow travelers on this journey through loss and grief, laughter and hope. For no matter how dark the days, how wild the storm, or how long the winter, there is hope. There is always hope.

MENTAL ILLNESS

Stigma, isolation, loneliness, and shame often follow a diagnosis of mental illness, but not here. We offer resources for mental health steeped in love and grounded in faith. Here, mental illness is a brave journey of mercy multiplied.

LEADERS

What does it mean to listen, lead, and love like Jesus?

Since each of us is a unique member of the body of Christ with different life experiences, to lead well requires constant dependence on the Spirit to grow us as servant-hearted leaders.

OUR PROGRAMS

Dedicated to compassionately serving you with a wealth of accessible, easy-to-use, faith-based resources and publications devoted to our core values.

MARRIAGE

Marriage with chronic illness and pain can be a difficult journey, but it can also become a beautiful opportunity to learn patience, humility, forgiveness, tenderness and sacrifice – gifts forged in the fire, rooted in Christ, and built to stand the test of time.

CHILDREN

While each child is affected differently, chronic illness, pain, and disability often impact development, self-awareness, behavior, independence, daily routines, social activities, and education. Yet those challenges can also be a catalyst toward building lifelong resiliency, faith, and compassion.

PARENTING

The keys to parenting when chronic illness is a member of the family are prayer; humor; flexibility; acknowledging loss, fear, and other uncomfortable emotions; embracing each member's God-given worth; and loving one another deeply from the heart.

TEENS

The teen years are filled with change, and chronic illness complicates all of it – social activities, independence, dating, education, employment, and relationships with family and friends. It can also cultivate strength and resilience as we begin to discover what really matters.
